Our sincere thanks to President Marjorie Wuestner and Catherine Balsley who funded the first-place award in honor of Anne Crown-Cyr, founder, and first president of the Delaware Watercolor Society. Also, to all the members who helped plan the exhibition, handled the registrations, hung the exhibit, provided refreshments and the printed materials. There are many parts to an exhibition and the help of our members is sincerely and greatly appreciated.

The complete exhibition may be viewed on our website.

Member News

A warm and hearty welcome to our newest members, Mitzi Harp of Rehoboth Beach and Ilene Greenfield of Georgetown. We look forward to sharing our love of watercolor.

On a sad note, we note the passing of Antoinette Bradley, a talented member of our DWS family. Her paintings won awards from both the Delaware Watercolor Society and Rehoboth Art League. In addition to her accomplishments as an artist she was a skilled seamstress, translator for the UN, and a small business mentor. We extend our sincere condolences to her family and friends.

There is still time to see the paintings of Anne Crown-Cyr, Joan Fabbri and Nancy Mysak at Nassau Valley Vineyards and Winery, through the end of August. Stop by and visit the winery, enjoy a tasting and tour, and see some beautiful art in the gallery at 32165 Winery Way, Lewes, DE.

DWS could not be prouder and offers its congratulations to Anne Crown-Cyr on the publication of her first novel, "Evergreen." A reading, chat, and Q&A, sponsored by the Rehoboth Beach Library will be held on August 29, 4:30 to 5:30 pm. Contact the Library to register for this event. Kudos, Anne.

Christine Heyse is one of the featured artists at the Peninsula Gallery's "Inside Out" exhibition. The works will be on display September 3-25 at the Gallery in Lewes Delaware. The paintings may also be viewed on the gallery's website. Congratulations, Chris.

Annie Strack won the third place award in the 2nd Annual Olde Stone Village Plein Air in Sewell, New Jersey. Her paintings were also juried into the Green Mountain Watercolor 10th National Exhibit, Hawaii Watercolor International Exhibit, Montana Watercolor Society 40th National Exhibit, Alaska Watercolor Society 48th National Exhibit, Georgia Watercolor Society Annual Juried Members Exhibit, and Kentucky Watercolor Society 45th National Exhibit. She earned Signature Membership in Hawaii Watercolor Society. She was president of the Awards Jury for the Annual International Dinard Plein Air Festival in Brittany, France. She has a solo show of her watercolor paintings at the Heggan Library Gallery in Washington Township, New Jersey in December.
